Period watercolors highlight new show

More than 100 watercolors of costume and set designs from the Diaghilev era (1909-1929) will be on view in the Detroit Institute of Arts South Wing Ground Floor galleries from Tuesday through Feb. 18.

When Russian-born impresario Serge Diaghilev

Russes in Paris, western European audiences acclaimed his stars - Pavlova and Nijinsky among them - and the unconventional sets and costumes created by his designers, many of whom had studied in Imperial Russian theatrical schools.

Dr. Audley Grossman, curator of theatre arts, will install the exhibition lent from the personal collection of Mr. and Mrs. Nikita Lobanov - Rostovsky of New York City. From the museum's permanent collection he will add several sculptures inspired by the Diaghilev era, including a rarely-shown wax mask of Anna Pavlova wearing a Russian headdress by Malvina Hoffman.

A ballet film, "The Red Shoes" (1954), will be shown free at 2:30 p.m. Feb. 10-11 in the lecture hall. Dr. Grossman said the film was inspired in part by Diaghilev's career.

Souvenirs of a golden era in dance history, the designs in the exhibition are works of art in themselves, uniting visual and performing arts. Among them are Leon Bakst's costume for a Jewish dancer treatment of the multi-patterned Art Nouveau style. Designers Natalia Gontcharova, Mihail Larionov, Liubov Popova and Jean Pougny adapted dynamic angular planes of constructivist painting for costumes.

Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum, located in Dearborn, is a 200 acre living history of Americana. It stands as a tribute to one of America's inventive giants, Henry Ford, to the creative genius of the man he considered to be our greatest American, Thomas Alva Edison. It is his tribute also, to the achievements, ideals and hard work of many dedicated Americans who helped shape our nation's destiny.

The Menlo Park compound in Greenfield Village reflects Henry Ford's great admiration and friendship for Thomas Edison. It consists of five buildings; the laboratory, office and library, little glass house where the first successful light bulb was blown, carbon shed, carpenter shed and machine shop, all surrounded by a white picket fence.

Each building was reconstructed from, or is a replica of, those used by Edison at Menlo Park, New Jersey. Visitors may notice a reddish color in the soil inside the picket fence that differs from the rest of the village. The soil was brought to the village from Menlo Park, a prime example of Henry Ford's meticulous attention to detail and authenticity that prevails throughout Greenfield Village.

Edison's laboratory saw the birth of the first phonograph, the microphone, telephone transmitter, the electric pen - forerunner of modern stencil duplication - and numerous other inventions that contributed to man's comfort and happiness.

It was here too, that Tom Edison gave light to the world. The building was completely restored to Edison's personal satisfaction and contains original apparatus and instruments as well as models of many of his inventions. On October 21, 1929 - 50 years to the day after the discovery of the first practical incandescent lamp - "the Wizard of Menlo Park" came to Greenfield Village to re-enact that historic moment.

Greenfield Village is composed of more than 100 buildings. Most transported from many areas of the country and reassembled at the village. They range from the bleak slave huts from the hermitage plantation of Georgia to the gracious home of Noah Webster; from the blacksmith shop with its glowing forge, to the small converted shed that was the birthplace of the Ford automobile.

Visitors can watch silk thread being produced directly from cocoons, the cooper fashioning wooden buckets without the aid of glue or nails, or pose, as grandmother did, for a tintype portrait.

Greenfield Village depicts and preserves, in period settings and working craft shops, American life as it was lived, according to the concepts of its founder, Henry Ford.

Expressing his aims for the village, Ford said in part, "By looking at things people used and that show the way they lived, a better and truer impression can be gained than could be had in a month of reading - even if there were books whose authors had the facilities to discover the minute details of the older life."

Village, museum stands as tribute to 'giants'

Henry Ford Museum, on the other hand, deals more with the specifics of human and technical history. It provides in three-dimensional form, and presents in chronological sequence, the tools, machinery and artifacts pertinent to three and one half centuries of American life.

Fields festival is set

A "W.C. Fields Festival" and "School for Scoundrels" will be presented at 8 p.m. Feb. 2 in Room 215 of the Engineering Building at the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

Huron sets 1973 goals

A list of goals was established at the Huron Community Council's initial meeting last Monday.

The council, which hopes to solve community problems in the areas of education and community needs, drew up a list of four major areas in which it hoped to work during the months of January and February.

The main priorities will be to provide better public library facilities, provide vocational guidance counseling to the adult community, develop a community information center where people can call for referral services, and develop a feeling of respect for people and property in the community.

Several other topics were brought up at the meeting but it was decided that the four areas listed above would be given the main concentration.

Loan closet set up

Disabled American Veterans Chapter 120 has established a hospital equipment "Loan Closet" for area residents.

Formed in cooperation with American Legion Post 111 and the People's Community Hospital Authority (PCHA), the Loan Closet includes such items as hospital beds, over-the-bed tables, night stands and wheel chairs.

To qualify for a loan of hospital equipment, a resident must have a message from his doctor that he is in need of the items.

Chairman of the Loan Closet is Ralph Hedman of Belleville. Coordinator of the closet is Ed Ogger, Sr., 34241 Harroun St., Wayne. Other committee members are Robert Howell, Ben Holland, Roy Williams and Dan Donatti.

To make arrangements for an equipment loan, residents are asked to call Hedman at 699-2272; Ogger at 728-7264; Howell at 721-8335; Holland at 697-7148; Williams at 721-6873 or Donatti at 721-6476.

State Representative Gary M. Owen (D-Ypsilanti) of Michigan's new 22nd legislative district, has been appointed to the House of Representative Committee on Appropriations.

The appointment of Owen, 27, a freshman legislator to one of the most important committees of the state legislature was announced by House Speaker William Ryan, who said:

"I appointed Owen to the House Appropriation Committee because of his experience in local government and I have confidence he is more qualified for the position and will be an asset to the committee."

Owen was one of four area lawmakers receiving appointments to the 33 standing house committees.

Other appointments included State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak, (D-Romulus). Mahalak was reappointed to

Van Buren police have busy year

1972 was a "very busy" year for the Van Buren Township Police Department according to an annual report submitted to the township board last week by Police Chief John R. Willet Sr.

During the year, police personnel put in 1,967 road hours on various patrol assignments in the township. Van Buren police officers and park rangers, who also serve as Van Buren Township officers, issued 326 traffic violations tickets.

A total of $2,134 in fines was collected by the Van Buren Township Violation Bureau and $4,090.96 from the 34th District Court, or a total of $6,224.96 for the year.

Van Buren Township also has the assistance of the Wayne County Sheriff Department's road patrol and State Police in law enforcement work.

Willet said the police department was reorganized in 1972 with the approval of the township board. The department now consists of one police commissioner, a member of the board, one police chief, four sergeants and 16 police officers.

The annual report broke down the road patrol hours as follows:

Department personnel spent 642 hours on school details, 402 hours on special police duty at Flag's Restaurant, located on Belleville Road at the I-94 Expressway and 460 hours of police duty at the 1972 Wayne County 4-H Fair.

The department received a total of $3,238 from the restaurant and 4-H Fair officials in payment for the special police protection. School duty brought in $1,377 and another $110.50 was received from other special police duty for total of $10,950.46.

Willet said the total amount of money received from all sources regarding police services in the township amounted to two-thirds of the yearly police payroll in 1972.

In 1972 the police department leased a Speedgun Radar Unit. The unit has been tested and is ready for use in traffic law enforcement work. He also said the department purchased one 1972 4-door fully-equipped Mercury for scout car patrol.

During the summer months, the department used two patrol cars on weekends.

The department had one training seminar during the year and Chief Willet, Patrolmen Gary Halloway and Joseph Matthews took a special course in criminal law and were awarded certificates from Schoolcraft College in Livonia. Five men left the force and two were hired in 1972.

"We look forward to 1973 to be a good year for our department," Willet told the township board. "We intend to fill all vacancies in the department and with the help of our new radar unit we hope to keep Van Buren Township a safe place in which to live."

Willet also said the department intends to have several different training sessions during the current year.

Rec program 'success'

The response to Van Buren Township's new and enlarged recreation program is "very successful," William Loyd, recreation director, told the township board.

Trustee Free Domen introduced Loyd to the board last week to explain the township's recreation programs which were expanded in 1972.

Twenty-six programs have been proposed for the year beginning with last fall's session, Loyd said. He said 14 programs are included in the winter session, which were initiated this January and six new programs are "in the works" for the summer.

Loyd said that the expanded recreation program is "catching on" and in many instances has been "very successful."

One of the most popular classes is the adult fitness class conducted by Ben Robertson, township industrial coordinator. There are 62 persons enrolled.

He said there has been excellent response to scuba, small engine repair and sewing classes. Modern dance, square dancing and Saturday elementary school basketball also have been popular. He added that a second guitar class has been added to accommodate the high enrollment.

Golf and tennis and several art classes have been planned for the summer period.

The construction of an ice skating rink adjacent to the school district's administration building is under consideration. Plans to construct the rink were somewhat delayed when a volunteer who offered to level the ground has no follow through, Loyd said.

He also has been waiting for delivery of the required light poles.

In the karate program 15 persons have enrolled and the class is "still growing" despite the fact that is one of the most expensive classes.

He said the family swimming program, which started too late in the evening for families with small children was canceled because of "poor response". A Saturday afternoon swim class for elementary school students was added by Loyd said it was too early to tell the class' success.

Adult swim classes, cake decorating classes and income tax classes also have been canceled.

Anyone interested in any course must pre-register at the Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

PCHA boosts rates

By LUCY WIESEND

Beginning Sunday the cost of hospital care went up at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne and at the three other Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) facilities. The PCHA board of directors last week voted to increase the cost of hospital rates at Annapolis, Lincoln Park's Outer Drive, Ypsilanti's Beyer and Trenton's Seaway hospitals.

The increase includes the cost of a room, operating room service, anesthesia, emergency room service, diagnostic testing, occupational therapy and alcoholism therapy treatment.

The board approved an average room increase of $7.50 per day. A private room will cost a patient $69 per day.

Beginning Sunday semi-private rooms will cost $64 and ward care will cost $62.

Daily room fees for intensive and coronary care patients also has gone up by $7.50 from $56.50 to $64. (The additional fee of each eight hours of care has been increased from $22 to $30.)

Pediatrics has been increased from $65 to $75; the nursery room from $39 to $45, and incubator or cradle warmer from $10 to $12. In addition, the board approved an increase in the fee for the labor room from $56.50 to $64 and the delivery room from $125 to $150.

Other charges that have been increased are operating room service up $25 for the first hour, from $90 to $115 and up $10 for each additional half hour, from $25 to $35. Operating room service for minor surgery is up $20 for the first half hour, from $70 to $90 and up $5 for each additional half hour, from $20 to $25.

The cost for general anesthesia (including spinal) has been increased from $60 to $70 for the first hour and $15 to $20 for each additional half hour. Local anesthesia is up $2 from $10 to $12 and the anesthesia service charge with an anesthesiologist is up $10 for major surgery and $5 for minor surgery. The flat rate for major surgery is $30 and for minor surgery $20.

The rate for occupational therapy treatment is up $2 from $8 per half hour to $10 and the cost of in-patient alcoholism therapy is up $10 from $15 to $25 per day.

PCHA hospital rates are up 5.95 per cent, according to board member Roger J. Remer. He said that a six per cent increase is allowable to the authority under the wage and price regulations.

"We must have the additional revenue to continue the construction projects planned," Remer said. "PCHA has enough money to complete the construction projects at Annapolis and Outer Drive hospitals but if there is no increase in rates the new Taylor hospital project would have to be stopped."

"In our study, almost all hospitals charge more than we do," said board member Rev. Kurt Heidmann of Wayne. "The increase is necessary to give employees increases in wages."

Board Chairman Donald J. Pizzimenti said the Phase III has no relief for the hospital industry because hospitals (which are controlled) must purchase from industries not controlled under wage-price laws. He said, for example,

Taxpayers to send money, not buses

Taxpayers are going to spend millions to prevent cross-district school busing and to buy back some of the time they squandered.

The money will start flowing this year in the new school aid bill.

It all goes back to the first shots fired in the busing fight two years ago when Senator Coleman A. Young (D-Detroit) told the chamber:

"If you really want to help the schools in Detroit, then send money. But, if you don't send money, you're going to have to send buses."

Taxpayers, and the Michigan Supreme Court, have chosen to send money, leaving to some misty future day the more basic problems of equal housing and job opportunities.

The court opened the way with its split decision that the manner of Michigan's distribution of school money is inequitable and, is thus, unconstitutional.

There is a growing clamor that the property tax, which foots about 50 per cent of the school operating bill, is also inequitable—a question the court did not answer.

Thus the issue before the legislature in drafting the 1973-74 school aid bill is quality education for all, the same number of dollars spent on each child.

So if the busing question revolves around quality education and, as the court implies, quality education can be obtained only by money, the busing issue is dead.

The legislature, which for two years has fulminated about busing with efforts as meaningless as making speeches against the weather, now has a chance to do something.

To remove the constitutional taint from the present school aid structure, it must raise Inkster schools, for instance, to the level of Dearborn. The poor, by golly, shall be rich.

It is a question of raising up the poor districts to the level of the wealthy districts, not of finding some mystical median and bringing Dearborn down and Inkster up.

Legislators have already started to work out a school aid formula that will satisfy the court decision—the only way, under present definitions, they can act to prevent busing.

There is an implied concession in the court and legislative development that the pure issue of busing—uncolored by the quality education argument—is a federal matter.

It is now before the United States Supreme Court and Michigan's own case, challenging the findings of de jure (intentional) segregation in the Detroit school system is enroute to the Potomac through the nine-member Sixth U.S. District Court of Appeals.

And Senator Robert P. Griffin is trying again for a Congressional solution. He claims enough Senate votes for passage, but not the two-thirds vote he needs to cut off filibuster and bring it to a vote.

The 51 per cent of the Democratic primary vote picked up in Michigan last May 16 by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace is plain enough to political people.

It is now up to the federal courts and Congress to act on the specific issue of busing.

But in Michigan, the answer is at hand: Make education equal in all schools—as the Supreme Court ordered—and the need for busing evaporates.

Michigan will send money, not buses.

In our opinion

People are starting to become involved

There's a healthy trend growing among our fellow citizens of Michigan. It seems that some of our citizenry has decided to get involved in the running of our state government.

First there was the Lansing man - Jerry Blakslee, 29, by name - who created such a citizen stir over the junket of 38 Michigan legislators to Miami in early December that some 500 citizens turned out at the Capitol in Lansing to voice their objections upon the legislators' return.

Now there's the lawsuit, filed in Wayne County Circuit Court last Friday, to force the six lameduck legislators on that Florida trip to reimburse the state treasury the funds used for expenses to Miami.

The two men filing the class action suit are a Detroit high school principal, Emerald A. Crosby, and a high school teacher, Douglas Mackenzie.

We applaud the two men despite what former state representative Alex Pilch, one of the six lameducks who made the said trip over the weekend when revealing that he had reimbursed the state the $447 he had spent.

Pilch, who lost out in August's primary election in his bid to win a fourth term in the state legislature, was critical of the two men for not bothering to get the "facts" in preparing their lawsuit.

While we will agree that the two men may not deserve an "A" for their lawsuit homework, we would have to differ with our former representative - Pilch's former 32nd District included the east portion of Inkster - on the over-all aspect of the trip.

As a lameduck - a person who is about to leave public office for such reasons as being defeated in an election or having announced retirement from a public office - Pilch had no business in the first place putting in for expense funds for the trip to Florida.

Nor did any of the other five lameduck legislators from throughout the state. Nor probably did too many of the other 32 legislators who made the trip to sunny Florida in early December.

Secondly, if Pilch wanted to avoid the criticism to himself and his family that resulted from the trip - as he has been quoted in the news media - he could have made a public statement that he had returned the $447.

He did not, preferring instead to let the $447 reimbursement just become the matter of public record as it did through expense account documents.

We hope more people get involved in their government, not just at the state level that has drawn so much interest of late but at the local and national levels too.

After all, the people of the United States, Michigan and Western Wayne County have a big investment in their government.

So they should care more than they really do.

Holiday planning will get 'stickier'

Planning for the holidays just past was tough enough—but the problem gets even stickier this year when you look ahead and note that the Christmas and New Years holidays fall on Tuesdays.

Mark-up is not profit. People get confused between the mark-up on a product in a grocery store or a clothing store and the rate of profit of that store.

You often hear that a suit is bought for $60 by the retailer and then is sold for $90, so the mark-up is 50 per cent.

But that's not his profit because he has to pay for the rent of the store; he has to pay taxes; he has to pay the help; he has to pay for the inventory and by the time he computes all these other costs, it may turn out that he's actually losing money, as many retailers, in fact, do from time to time.

So there's a confusion between mark-up and profit, according to Dr. Carl Madden chief economist, Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Chamber of commerce annual membership will be held April 28.

Development meeting develops key ideas

by Dolores E. Ristow
Romulus Chamber of Commerce

The Romulus-Metro International Airport Chamber of Commerce held its program development series meetings Jan. 23 at the Romulus City Hall.

Mr. C. Frohman Johnson, manager, public affairs and local chamber services, was on hand to acquaint the more than 50 members and non-members who attended the three meetings of the day as to how the chamber actually got started, what the chamber is all about, and in what general areas the local chamber can be most beneficial to the community.

Economic expansion (or industrial development) proved to be the prime concern of the majority, encompassing the problem of the Detroit-Metro Airport expansion program and the trouble of Romulus being recognized as the world commerce city that it really is with this tremendous airport right in the middle of it.

The non-use of the four of the five, council approved, table top liquor licenses in the City of Romulus brought the most enthusiastic discussion of the day.

Licenses under fire were those of Edmund Bizak, Jr., Ronald J. Makino, Joseph J. Nehra Jr., and Gikendall (Tyron) Phenix, all of which have been lying dormant for a year or more.

The understanding is that these licenses should be in use within one year after approval unless an extension at the discretion of the Liquor Commission has been granted.

Other areas proving to be major concerns were in Community Development such as: type of housing in Romulus, education, city government, zoning changes, streets and service program, police & fire protection (security system), and beautification of all of Romulus.

Communications and organizational affairs were obvious concerns.

Chamber president, Richard Enright, chaired the Chambers 10:00 AM meeting; Edmund Galazka, 2nd. Vice president, chaired the 2:00 PM meeting; and Mrs. Dolores Ristow, Executive Board Director and Secretary, chaired the 6:00 P.M. meeting.

The Romulus chamber's executive board and directors are in agreement that the three meetings will bring about positive direction for the entire membership of the chamber, give them goals to aim at, and create an even greater interest for persons wanting to support the Romulus Chambers efforts and activities.

The Romulus chamber directors plan on reviewing the collected information from the three meetings of the day and by their February monthly board meeting hope to have the exact course charted the chamber will follow in 1973, and announce their decision on these programs to the public.

Michigan lawmakers file anti-busing bill

Three Michigan congressmen have introduced a proposed constitutional amendment which would prohibit cross district busing such as that ordered for the greater Detroit Metropolitan area or busing carried out in pursuit of racial balance.

This initiative was taken by Reps. James G. O'Hara, Lucien N. Nedzi and Robert J. Huber. O'Hara and Nedzi are Democrats and Huber, a freshman in this Congress, is a Republican.

They were joined by four other members of the Michigan delegation - Democratic Reps. Martha W. Griffiths, William D. Ford and John D. Dingell and Republican Rep. William Broomfield.

In a joint statement the sponsors of the amendment said:

"We are convinced that busing is wrong. It is imperative that the U.S. Supreme Court rule quickly and decisively against busing and thereby decide the question once and for all. However, if the court favors busing, the only alternative is a constitutional amendment.

The language of the proposed amendments reads:

"No part of this constitution shall be construed to

By TOM OCHILTREE,

Washington Bureau Chief

require a school system which assigns pupils on the basis of neighborhood attendance areas to assign pupils in any other manner."

Although his approach was somewhat different, Sen. Robert P. Griffin (R-Michigan) sought the same result in measures the senator tossed into the hopper on Jan. 4.

One of Griffin's bills consisted of a proposed constitutional amendment to prohibit the assignment of children to schools on the basis of their race, color, religion or national origin. The other would deny by statute the jurisdiction of federal courts to issue busing orders based on race.

Like Griffin, the Michigan congressmen recognized that amending the constitution is a laborious process. An amendment must be approved by a two-thirds vote of both houses of Congress and by three-fourths of state legislatures.

Declaring that a crisis situation had developed to the point when a constitutional amendment must be considered, the congressmen said:

"A clear anti-busing majority now exists in the House. As the problem strikes home in more and more congressional districts, the necessary two-thirds point will be within reach."

However, they conceded that the Senate presented a more formidable obstacle, but expressed the hope the attitude of that chamber would change with House passage of an amendment and under the pressure of public opinion.

In the closing days of the old Congress, the Senate filibustered to death a House-approved bill which would have placed stringent limits on busing.

The Michigan congressmen explained that they were not wedded exclusively to the language of their proposed amendment.

Several versions of a constitutional amendment have been offered in Congress, including Griffin's. The Michigan congressmen said when the time comes for a decision in the House "they will support that version which has the best chance to prevail."

Students must help stop flow of drugs

To the editor:

The use and abuse of drugs among high school adolescents is growing and nobody has stopped or slowed down the traffic. People and parents better start thinking of their children.

How long are we going to sit back while school administrators expel their students who happened to "score" in school, who are watching their classmates die from overdoses.

The student is the place to start stopping this flow of drugs. Further his education by allowing people who have experience with the type of drugs that are prevalent in the high schools, which is almost all of them, to share their experience with them.

Ask the people of the community who do have the experience to step forward. I offer my service with this letter and I'm sure there will be one or two more out of the thousands of people in this area who know drugs.

The student, which includes any teenager, needs information, if for nothing else than to keep themselves alive.

Let us offer all our younger brothers and sisters a taste of life before they substitute drugs for the life experiences they never had and may never have.

Convention didn't do what outsider wanted

To the editor:

The following is a copy of a letter sent to the 13th. District Democratic convention held Jan. 13th.

The Democratic 13th Congressional District convention was an enlightening experience.

Thanks to an invitation from Al Fuhrmann, a local precinct delegate, I was allowed to see politics in action. This is an experience more citizens should have.

It is not often the average citizen can see what the delegates do after the election, and who keeps the wheels of politics turning.

The most interesting part was watching and listening to the different special interest groups making deals for their own interest.

The one thing I did notice was that no-one mentioned the voters that put them there.

What I wanted to hear I never heard. There was no mention of cutting taxes, eliminating government bureaucracy, returning to constitutional government, winning the war and bringing our prisoners home with victory and honor and stopping communism. I will be watching these elected people with great interest. I hope to attend more of these conventions of all political parties.

One thing I can say, Al Fuhrmann did answer all my questions as honest as he could, and if he isn't able to answer your question he will do his best to get the answer for you.

Bible is tremendous; it should be read

To the editor:

The Roman Catholic Bible is a tremendous book. Each Catholic should study it daily and live by its standards.

The average Catholic does very little, if any, Bible reading. He as a result, has misconceptions.

Do you know the Douay Bible says:

1. Unless a man be born again, he can't enter Heaven. Read John 3:3-18; 3:36; 11:25-27. Rom. 10:9-10.

2. Mary claims God as her savior. See Luke 1:45-49.

3. Christ is the priest. Read Heb. 4:14-5:5; 7:24-8:1; 9-11:10:4.

4. Christ is the only Mediator between God and man (1 Tim. 2:5). Since this is true, why confess to the earthly priest?

5. Christ is the only rock, the foundation. He is called the rock, at least 20 times. Some of the references are 1 Cor. 3:11; 10:4; Acts 4:11; Psalms 17 (18): 1,2; 70 (71):3; 2 Sam. 22:2,3.

Jesus himself said he is the way to the Father (John 14:6). Is he a liar or is he who he claimed to be? He can't be both.

Valentine Dance set

St. Anthony's Altar Society is announcing plans for its Valentine Dance which will include "something for everyone" -- round, square, and polka dancing. Music will be furnished by "The Bob Katz" at the February 17 event which will be held in the Father Foltz Building adjacent to the church.

Tickets for the 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. party are $3.50 and will include free refreshments and set-ups.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. Don Greca with Mrs. Al Szuma as co-chairman; Mrs. Walter Radisovich in charge of tickets; and Mrs. Robert Tontolo seeing to decorations.

Tickets will be sold at the door or may be purchased from any Altar Society member. The public is welcome to attend.

We're sorry, we goofed!

In last week's issue we announced that Ramona Lynn Webb had a new sister, Rebecca Lynn. That was correct. The fact that she weighed 5 pounds on her arrival January 7 at Oakwood Hospital was correct. That she was the second daughter of the Oscar Webbs of 10615 Jackson, Belleville, was correct.

What wasn't is the fact that Ramona is 17 YEARS old and not 17 months as was stated. We apologize to Ramona for reducing her age to childhood, although, we're sure, if she were older she'd have appreciated the error.

Area Jaycees hold party

The Romulus Jaycees will be holding a "Millionaire's party" Feb. 10 at the Progressive Hall on Ozga Road, Romulus.

Tickets for the event, which will begin at 9 p.m., are $4 per person, and can be purchased from any Jaycee or at the door.

Those attending the party will be issued play money to compete in games of chance, "Las Vegas" style, with winnings being used at the end of the evening to purchase gifts on display at the hall.

All proceeds from the party will be used for community betterment projects.

Men's Club dinner-dance draws 200

TABLE MATES -- Enjoying a brief respite as the Ted Butkin Trio paused for an intermission were another group from St. Anthony's -- Dale and Pat Lorbeske (from left) and Gloyce and Ed Lauth. Among the 200 to enjoy the buffet dinner served by Phyllis Bies, the table mates agreed that it was a terrific way to promote the fellowship of the Men's Club which was responsible for the January 13 party.

VIEW FROM THE BALCONY -- Richard Smith, who did the photography - bit at the recent post-holiday dinner dance at St. Anthony's, snapped this overall view of the evening's crowd estimated at about 200. Sponsored by the Men's Club, the annual party included members, parishners and guests and was held in the Father Folta Building adjacent to the church. Soft draperies covered the block walls with clusters of balloons, colorful cascading banners, and twinkling - lighted trees transforming the gymnasium into a festive ballroom.

DANCE ENTHUSIASTS -- The Freemans -- Cecelia and Lloyd -- show their pleasure at the dinner-dance as they beam their endorsement of the annual party. The Freemans, who shared their table with the Howard Wilsons and other friends, have been members of St. Anthony's Parish since 1935. Avid dancers (we hear they even take square dancing lessons) they have 25 grandchildren on their family tree.

SHARING A LAUGH -- Clyde Batzer (standing) principal of Haggerty Elementary School, did a bit of table-hopping at the dinner - dance and stopped to share a few laughs with Harmony Lane neighbors, Mrs. Eunice Demick, who attended with her husband, George, Helen Konapek, and Margaret Gollwitzer, who was with her husband, Van Buren Supervisor Elton G. Gollwitzer. Clyde and his wife, Marian, were at a nearby table with members of the Men's Club who sponsored the annual event.

Players rehearse comedy

Director Jean Daniels of the Belleville Community Players is going to have to take some glue pills in order to stay in one piece during the rehearsals of the forthcoming production THE GAZEBO. This two-act mystery comedy combines a plot and several subplots of comedy, murder, conspiracy, blackmail, and fantasy -- all blending together to create a piece of art.
John Hale, a local teacher, poker-faced and as funny as can be, has the lead role of Elliott Nash, a frustrated television mystery writer.
A newcomer to the group, Rebecca Foote, a music teacher in Westland, plays Elliott's wife, Nell, an aspiring television actress.
Their neighbor and local assistant district attorney, Harlow Edision, is played by Bill Loyd, local teacher and Van Buren Township Recreation Director.
Maxie Jo Haas has another maid role, that of Matilda who opens the play with blood curdling screams.

Then there are the two gangsters: the Dook, a poor but elegant British type played by John Touse; and Louie, the "dese and dese," sinister, cut throat type, as yet uncast.
Other roles are: Mrs. Chandler, a realtor, played by Dorothy Florian; Jenkins, a detective, played by Chuck King; Mr. Thorpe, a contractor, by Ken Miller; Dr. Wyner by Tim Lochrie; Druker by Tom Branscomb and the policeman, played by Tom Lochrie.
On the production end,

Charlotte King as producer has been busy stretching the budget, setting up crews and making sure that everyone is on his toes.
The rest of the production staff is: assistant director Jon Hale; lighting, Paul Salisbury; make-up and publicity, Dorothy Florian; set design, Ken Daniels; construction, Larry Haas; props and set decoration, Sharon and Bill Matthews and Trudy Heath.
Production is set for Friday, March 2 and Friday and Saturday, March 9 and 10 with curtain going up at 8:30 p.m.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Medical science, surgical techniques and medications have made miraculous gains in recent years. The hospital is no longer just a place to die. Hospitals today are well-girded to prevent untimely death. Along with these marvelous improvements, the hazards of living have multiplied beyond reason or comprehension. Day after day coroners' reports of D.O.A. "dead on arrival" appear far too often. Accidental deaths now number well over 100,000 per year.
Many of these unnecessary deaths occur because of panic. Panic will never be eliminated entirely but certain cautions can be taken to avoid it. Here they are:
1. Promise yourself that if and/or when you need an ambulance, fire truck or police, you WILL stay calm. 2. Give your name clearly and calmly. 3. Give EXACT address where help is needed. 4. Briefly answer any question as clearly and calmly as you can. 5. Don't give unnecessary information. 6. Say what you have to say in as few words as possible. REMEMBER these six suggestions! MEMORIZE them! It will help you have emergency help to arrive in time.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP BOARD MINUTES

REGULAR MEETING.

JANUARY 23, 1973

The meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. The meeting was called to order by Supervisor Gollwitzer at 8:00 P.M. Members present were Gollwitzer, Cullin, Hedman, Kureth, Domen, Kuchta, Blend, Attorney Rice and Engineer Levine. Also attending were 38 citizens.

Motion by Hedman, Supported by Kureth to accept the minutes of January 9, 1973 as presented. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Blend to note and file a Resolution from Redford Township resolving to go on record supporting the Proposal of Wayne County Commissioner, Richard E. Manning regarding a program which will clean up the River Rouge and provide employment for both young and senior citizens. Support by Hedman. Motion carried unanimously.

A Resolution from the City of Inkster stating it's support in SEMCOG was noted and filed. No action was necessary.

Supervisor Gollwitzer advised the Board that he will check to see if there is any equipment we would like to dispose of at the City of Romulus Auction during the month of April. He will advise the Board at the next meeting. Clerk Cullin made the motion to note and file. Support by Treas. Hedman. Motion carried unanimously.

Domen made a motion to give permission to the American Cancer Society to crusade in the Van Buren Township during the month of April. Support by Clerk Cullin. Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Traskos and Mr. Kokey appeared before the Board requesting a Sand Removal permit for land located at the South West Corner of Bak and Hull Roads within the Van Buren Township. Engineer Levine requested Mr. Traskos to use a USDS Bench Mark, and relate their elevation to existing elevation, used by Wayne County Drain Commission. Mr. Kokey stated "The original plan was for 40 acres, but without knowing what you were going to do with the balance of the property, the balance of the property should be considered. Maybe the 40 acre cut was ideal, and maybe it wasn't. We had to design this so that the entire 80 acre parcel, which one man owns, wouldn't be hurt." Mr. Traskos stated that nothing will be hauled in. No clay or hard fill will be hauled in. There will be a final earth balance to this grade. No black dirt comes off the premises.

Jim Ackron, Joe Hogan, John Ford and Virginia Turney and Rachel Wilson all expressed their views about this subject from the audience.

Ralph Hedman stated that inasmuch as Mr. Levine would like to see the USDS Bench Mark to compare with the topo, Mr. Hedman moved to table this until such topo is furnished and Mr. Levine has had time to study it thoroughly with final elevations and recommendations. Support by Domen. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Clerk Cullin to reduce the cost of Voters Registration Lists to the amount of Two Dollars ($2.00) per precinct. Support by Kureth. Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Clyde McGlone appeared in behalf of Orville R. McGlone and asked for a postponement until next Board Meeting as they were not prepared. Motion by Kureth to table this request for a new entertainment permit for 50778 Michigan Avenue until February 13, 1973. Support by Hedman. Motion carried unanimously.

Township board tables action on sand permit

The Van Buren Township Board has tabled formal action on an application for a sand removal permit filed by Harry Traskos of 16416 Sumpter Rd., Belleville.

The board voted to defer its decision on the permit request pending a study by township engineer Maurice Levine, who told the board he wanted to compare the topographic maps with U.S. Geological Survey datum to determine whether drainage problems would occur.

Traskos plans to remove approximately 150,000 cubic yards of sand from an 80-acre land parcel, located at the southwest corner of Bak and Hull Roads within Van Buren Township during the next year.

He told the board that he would comply with the provisions of the sand removal ordinance so as to provide for suitable drainage.

According to the records of past meetings of the township board, Traskos has not violated the ordinance in any of the operations that he conducted in the township, according to Mrs. Patricia Cullin, township clerk.

She questioned whether the proposed sand removal operation would create noise and dust problems.

Traskos said he would oil the pit.

The dust on the road will be controlled by law enforcement officers and the clerk or the supervisor would call the Wayne County Road Commission to chlorinate the road and bill him (Traskos) for the treatment.

Traskos said that he would be responsible for dust control and would put it in writing.

He said that he would operate from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the summer and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the winter on a five and one-half day week. There would be no Sunday operations. He expected to remove about 20 truckloads per day.

A number of homeowners in the area have sent letters to Mrs. Cullin objecting to the nuisance factor. Also several homeowners at the meeting stated their opposition.

Joseph Hogan, former township board member, requested that the board take into consideration the existence of a frog pound that needs filling on one corner. He also asked for the curtailment of Saturday hauling, speed limits set up and the control of sand spilling, especially at the traffic problem on Elwell Road.

Mrs. Virginia Turney, an Elwell Road resident, told the board that she believed the operation would "bring business into what is now a residential area." She objected to leveling of a hill running along Elwell Road, adding, "We would like to see the land kept as it is."

Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer pointed out that the same removal ordinance sets up certain criteria that must be observed, such as filling and grading and added that the ordinance also could be administered in such a way that it would not create any hardship in the township.

Township treasurer and board member Ralph Hedman said in as much as the township engineer would like to see the U.S. Geological Survey datum to compare with the Traskos' topographic maps he asked that the matter be tabled.

Inspect roof from ground

You don't have to get up on a roof to check its condition, if you follow the practice of men who inspect homes for a living.

John J. Heyn, president and founder of National Home Inspection Service, Inc., of Washington, D.C., says inspectors employed and trained by his firm carry field glasses and flashlights when they make field inspections.

NHIS offers its services to homebuyers who want the reassurance of a structural inspection before making an offer or closing a deal for a new or used home. For a fee, inspectors check the house from roof to basement and furnish buyers with a written report, including items such as the roof that may have to be repaired or replaced.

NHIS inspectors use field glasses to check the roof from ground level. The flashlight is used to peer around dark corners of the attic, where telltale water stains may warn of a roof leak.

"Climbing up on the roof is damage the roof," said Heyn. He offers these hints in estimating the condition of the roof:

1. The heavier and thicker the roof covering, the better the quality. For example, a heavyweight asphalt shingle roof is designed to last 25 years or more, whereas standard shingles have a 15-year life expectancy.
2. From the ground, look for cracks, blistered surfaces, curled or missing shingles. Granules on a new roof have luster, whereas a dull, flat or faded color is a sign of aging.
3. Check base of downspouts for excess granule deposits. Ceramically-coated mineral granules protect asphalt shingles from the sun's drying rays and provide the shingles with fire resistance. Loss of granules accelerates the aging process.

When a homeowner wants to select a roofing contractor for a re-roofing job, Heyn suggests checking with the local Better Business Bureau, roofers' association, or a neighbor whose home was recently re-roofed.

Once you decide to put a new roof on your home, you still have several options to consider before you buy.

In recent years, the roofing industry has developed new types of crack and blister. The ceramic-clad granules also add the fire resistance and color for which asphalt shingles are known.

Mineral granules also can perform another function. In warm, humid areas of the South, where most roofing is susceptible to staining from fungus and algae, asphalt shingles are available with chemically-treated white granules designed to prevent discoloration.

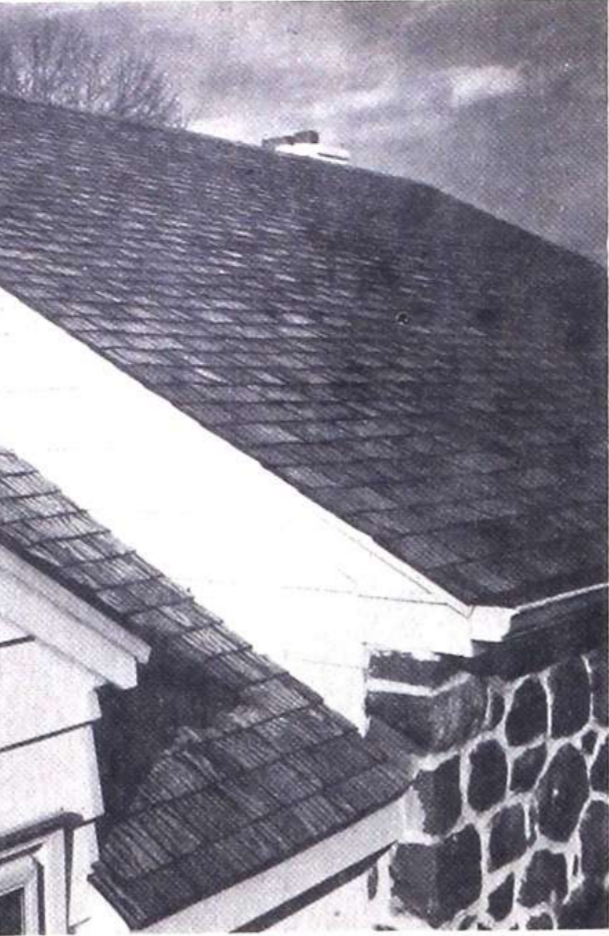

Weight is only one of the factors in judging the quality of a roof; design life is another. A top-of-the-line asphalt shingle is designed to last up to 25 years.

Contributing to both the weight and life expectancy of asphalt shingles are the mineral granules embedded in the surface. These little "rocks" protect the shingle from the sun's drying rays, which can cause roofing to crack and blister.

Faulty roofs can cause serious house damage

What part of your home gives you the most protection for the least amount of money? According to building experts, it's your roof. Today's roofing shingles come with guarantees ranging from 10 to 25 years. At current average prices, that means that your roof will protect you from the elements for less than $30 per year, and will remain virtually maintenance-free while doing it.

It's not surprising, then, that roofers are experiencing a great demand for their services. One of the chief reasons is that the millions of homes built during the housing boom of the late forties and early fifties now have roofs which have begun to exceed their average 15-year life expectancy.

Is your roof one of them? Determining whether your home needs a new roof is not simply a matter of looking for leaks in your attic during a rainstorm. Unseen leaks, which permit moisture to seep down through the roof structure and into the walls can cause serious damage to your home before you're aware that anything is wrong.

For this reason, experts recommend that you have a qualified roofer inspect your roof every two or three years — especially if your present roof surface is more than 15 years old.

You can, of course make preliminary checks on your own. Warped, cracked, or missing shingles are obvious signs that surface repairs are in order. And they may point to more serious damage underneath. Moisture in the walls, flaking plaster inside or peeling paint outside might also indicate that your roof is no longer doing its job.

If you suspect trouble, have a qualified roofer inspect your home. The amount of damage a faulty roof can do to your home makes the project too risky to leave to the judgement of the average do-it-yourselfer.

Once you decide to put a new roof on your home, you still have several options to consider before you buy.

The ceramic-clad granules also add the fire resistance and color for which asphalt shingles are known. Mineral granules also can perform another function. In warm, humid areas of the South, where most roofing is susceptible to staining from fungus and algae, asphalt shingles are available with chemically-treated white granules designed to prevent discoloration.

Weight is only one of the factors in judging the quality of a roof; design life is another. A top-of-the-line asphalt shingle is designed to last up to 25 years.

Contributing to both the weight and life expectancy of asphalt shingles are the mineral granules embedded in the surface. These little "rocks" protect the shingle from the sun's drying rays, which can cause roofing to crack and blister.

Belleville resident bound over in court

A Belleville resident, accused of felonious driving, has been bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court for trial after he waived pre-trial examination in 34th District Court in Romulus last Thursday.

He is Howard C. Hardin, 52, of 8165 Marlowe. District Court Judge James B. Stone scheduled the Circuit Court arraignment for Feb. 8 before Judge Benjamin Burdick. Hardin was released on a $1,500 personal bond pending the court arraignment.

Hardin is accused of driving a car that crashed last Dec. 10 into the rear of another car on Ecorse Road.

The owner of the second car, Stephen J. Trahey, 20, of Romulus, was changing a flat tire on the car in front of his home.

Trahey suffered multiple injuries, including a severed leg, when he crashed between the two cars. His other leg was amputated at Wayne County General Hospital, where he is listed in satisfactory condition.

DAVE COURT

Romulus overcomes stall

If Romulus High School basketball Coach Dave Court wasn't so dead serious about the game he probably would have laughed Brighton out of the gym Friday night.

Court watched as the visitors try unsuccessfully to stall their way past the Eagles.

Neither team scored the first five minutes of the game. Then, Romulus broke loose to a 17-0 first period, increased the margin to 30-1 at halftime before whistling to a 55-19 victory.

"The way I feel about all of this," said Court afterwards, "is that if they used the stall in order to win, then O.K. But if they used it to try to keep us from breaking a scoring record, then I can't respect anyone for that."

In posting their 27th victory on the home court, the top scorer for Romulus was Ron Bostick, who had 15. James Hall contributed 11 while Ron Kersey and Tony Owens each sank 10.

The victory could have proven disastrous. The following night Romulus ran up against a fast-moving Ann Arbor Huron quintet who caught the Eagles flat-footed before Court's boys worked their way back to an 81-56 triumph.

Huron trailed by only six points, 54-48, entering the final quarter.

"Against Brighton we could stand around and take chances and that feeling carried over to Saturday night's game," said Court. "Huron is a good team and the only teams that have beaten them are those that are ranked in the state.

"So we had to move to pull it out. And I'm glad that we are presently in the right frame of mind and working as a team," Court added.

Johnny Long, Bostick and Owens led a final period rally, each pouring in six points, as the Eagles outscored their rivals, 27-18, to ice their 28th victory on the home floor.

Though Romulus worked its way to a 23-14 first period, Ann Arbor came back to within five points, 39-34, at intermission.

Huron was near perfect at the free throw line where it dropped in 10 of 11 opportunities. The Eagles canned 11 of 22 charity shots but the last quarter Romulus spurt and a balanced attack led by Long proved to be the difference.

Long's 11 baskets and three free throws for 25 points led all scorers while Bostick contributed 19 and Hall counted 15. Owens, an outstanding floor general who likes to play the role of ball thief on defense hit for 11 points.

Romulus will be on the road Friday night, clashing with a rejuvenated Lincoln Park team which won two last difference.

Tiger cage machine to get overhaul job?

One thing you can say about Al Gates' basketball machine: it will give you a fair ride for your money.

But the Belleville Coach will probably tear down most of the parts to that machine after its recent 77-60 Suburban 8 Conference loss to Redford Union to see what goes wrong with it in the late stages of the drive.

It was a sputtering fourth period that led to the Tigers' sixth loss in seven league starts and Gates explained the situation as follows: "We just couldn't hit. They outscored us 27-15 in the final eight minutes and that was the difference."

Two misfired Belleville shots early in the period started the Tigers on the road to disaster. Trailing but by five points, 50-45, going into the last stanza, the Tigers missed a couple of easy layups and Redford Union came right back to score on both occasions to widen the gap.

"That gave Redford Union its confidence back," explained Gates, "and we just lost our heads."

It was a close battle until that last period as RU gained a 14-13 first period edge as 6-3 Gary Fulkus accounted for eight of those points. Belleville's Terry Pate responded with six.

Then, Pate sank four and Shorty Williams joined in with six to keep the local aggregation in the race. However, Terry Petch got "hot" and dropped in nine points which moved RU to a 31-26 halftime advantage.

The two league rivals set a fast pace in the third eight minutes with a rapid exchange of baskets. Doug Meyers and Williams supplied the Tigers with the artillery, hitting six and five points respectively while Glenn Richmond responded with six points. When Belleville's long and short range guns were silenced in the finale, Scott Bjerke went to town and dropped in 13 of his 20 points for the winners.

"We had the lead right up to the first two minutes of the fourth quarter, then we gave in," added Gates whose team now has the dubious honor of hosting the undefeated league leader, Allen Park.

The Jaguar have strung together seven consecutive league victories.

"Allen Park's record speaks for itself," said the Tiger mentor. "They have the height and the speed and are considered one of the best teams in the area."

"We would have to come up with an almost flawless ball game in order to beat them," he said.

Pate and Williams split 30 points between them to pace the Tiger attack, however, they couldn't match the output of Fulkus and Bjerke who combined for 44 of Redford Union's points.

Fulkus' 23 points led all scorers.

Belleville also had problems at the free throw line where it managed to capitalize upon only 12 of its 21 chances while Redford Union pushed through 17 of 25.

In one statistic, however, Belleville did have the edge: the Tigers outrebounded their rivals 32-31 -- and this is the first time this season a RU team had lost on the boards.

Did you know that Babe Ruth, the immortal home run king, was a pitcher in his early days of professional baseball?

I was just wondering what would have happened to his career if the soon to be enacted "designated hitter rule" would have been in effect during his playing days.

Poor fans, we would have never known about Ruth's slugging ability. He would have been yanked everytime he was up at the plate.

But "the Babe" was a one in a million shot, as the saying goes, and baseball today wants to keep up with the "more jet set," more touchdowns. More baskets. More runs.

Therefore, the American League has recently approved the new rule that will enable a manager to replace his pitcher at the plate with anyone he has on the bench. But the designation must be made before the game. The pitcher, however, will be allowed to do his thing.

Will high schools in the area, which usually look to the Michigan High School Athletic Association for guidance in such things as rules changes, follow in pursuit?

It's unlikely, according to some of the coaches we talked to.

"The new rule is basically a good rule," said Norm Hoenes, John Glenn's veteran baseball coach. "Baseball needed a shot in the arm and this is a step in the right direction. However, I don't think we would approve such a rule in our conference (Northwest Suburban) though I personally wouldn't be against it."

"Moreover, the high school pitcher is usually the best athlete," said Hoenes, "so you wouldn't want anyone pinch-hitting for him."

Garden City East's John Kulazenska also doesn't see the new rule infiltrating into the prep ranks because, "the pitchers are among the leading hitters."

"But I guess baseball needed something to speed up and liven up the game," Kulazenska said, "and there will be some managers who will have a pretty good lineup because of it, and some pitchers will win a few more."

"Take Mickey Lolich. How many times has he been behind 1-0 then yanked," the East mentor said. "The first guy who usually goes when a team is behind is the pitcher."

"But this rule probably will also extend the careers of some of the old timers like Kaline, Howard, Cash and Gates Brown," Kulazenska added, "it's going to be interesting to see what happens."

Ted Rogers, who says he's an "old fashioned baseball man", is categorically against the new rule.

"It's a rule to please the fan and not improve the game," said Rogers. "and I'm against it. In essence, baseball should concentrate on the quality of its games."

Rogers said in his opinion that "baseball is hurting at the ticket office and the owners are trying to fatten their purses."

"Fans complain because the game is slow as compared to hockey and football and basketball and when owners see the huge crowds jam into football stadiums, they apparently are wondering, 'why not baseball, too?' So they're out to change the game."

"It's obvious, when you play 16 football games that you're going to have packed stadiums. Cut down the number of baseball games and add quality and there will be a difference in gate receipts as well."

Rogers obviously is against the rule in high school baseball too. He detests seeing prep baseball use an "experimental ground."

"I'm definitely against the pinch-hit rule in high school," he said. "The pitcher is usually one of the better athletes and hitters, but then you could use the pinch-hit rule for an infielder or someone else."

"What type of moral would that build up for a team -- or confidence in a kid?"

"I have always felt that high school sports are to build better men and young ladies."

Bob Dropp, Garden City West coach, isn't too concerned about the new rule. But the Tiger mentor has another rule on his mind.

"They're talking about substituting the catcher and pitcher on the base path in order to speed up our game," said Dropp, "that's the rule I'm presently concerned about."

"They want to enact the rule so that the catcher can get on his equipment sooner, and we wouldn't have to wait around for the pitcher to put on his jacket. What do you think?"

Gee, Bob, I think you're in the wrong commercial.

CLEAR SAILING - The coast is clear for Romulus' Ron Bostick (44) who breezes in for this driving layup against Ann Arbor Huron Saturday night. Bostick's six points in the last period helped Coach Dave Court's Eagles pull away from a pesky Huron team and win their 28th home game 81-56. The lanky pivotman finished the night in double figures, with 19 points. Enterprise-Roman photo.

But Chiefs down Ypsi Lincoln

Monroe CC rips Huron

Tom Verecke's 35 points and Monroe Catholic Central's domination of the boards were enough to squelch New Boston Huron's hope for a conference victory Friday night.

Monroe riddled their hosts

75-51. Verecke, who collected 33 of his points in little over three quarters, paced the title hopeful's attack as he sank 16 from the field -- most of those on tap ins and three free throws for the game high.

"They completely dominated the boards," said Huron Coach Andy Herman whose team is presently 1-6 in the league. "They were playing volleyball with us."

Huron managed to put up a respectable front the first three quarters thanks to the scoring power supplied by Dana Kemp, Joe Richert and Tim Hinojosa. The Chiefs trailed by eight, 18-10, at the end of the first quarter and fell behind 39-27 at intermission.

The New Boston quintet exchanged baskets almost on equal terms with its visitors the next eight minutes, losing 16-15, but Monroe exploded to a 20-9 finale to jolt their rivals.

Kemp, with 16 points on seven field goals and two free throws, Richert, with 13, and Hinojosa, with 10, counted double figures for the Chiefs who also realized 12 of 15 from the free throw line.

Monroe CC canned nine of its 14 shots at the line.

Earlier last week it was the Chiefs who used a 29-11 last period to overthrow Ypsilanti Lincoln, 70-63, in a nonleague duel. Down by as much as 11 points going into the last stanza, Huron came back when Jim Pidgeon connected for 9 for 9 at the free throw line. He collected 11 points in the last frame.

It was at the charity stripe that Huron managed to eventually turn the tide. The Chiefs sank 28 of their 34 chances.

"We played one heck of a second half," said Herman, "we didn't change a thing from what we did in the first half. The boys played ball."

Romulus grapplers floor Flat Rock

Romulus' wrestling team raised its dual meet record to 6-3 when it defeated Flat Rock, 42-11, last Tuesday.

Nine of Coach Jim Stallings' grapplers won their matches. Phil Ford, Marvin Williams, and Henry Reed won by pins while Lamar Sandusky, Virgil Smith, and Rudy Williams won by decision.

Matt Manier and Robert Morrison were winners on forfeits.

"We moved most of our wrestlers up a few weight classes for this meet and we got some good performances," said Stallings. Stallings had special praise for Ford and Virgil Smith.

Ford, who moved up from 112 to 128 pounds and pinned his foe against Flat Rock, has won medals in all six tournaments in which the team has participated this season. Smith decisioned Flat Rock's Gary Simpson, who has been one of the state's top Class B wrestlers at 147 pounds.

Romulus has been rated as high as eighth in the state and Stallings said that the team, "is starting to believe in itself and I think we'll do well during the remainder of the season."

The Eagles have lost only to Bedford, Wayne, and Ypsilanti, all of which rate among the top 10 teams in the state.

Romulus will face Highland Park in an away meet tomorrow.

Meet results: ROMULUS 42, FLAT ROCK 11.

Belleville nipped by Plymouth

Belleville came within six seconds of posting its first Suburban 8 Conference dual meet swimming victory over the season, but was forced to be satisfied with the "Lions' share" of first places against Plymouth.

Plymouth won the war 51-44, but Coach Sam Vicchy's Tigers took seven of the 11 battles.

"Our kids swam well," said Vicchy whose team will take on Bentley at 7 p.m. tomorrow in Livonia. "I'm very pleased with our entire team - it's a young one and it came of age tonight (against Plymouth)."

"I feel that Plymouth could have beaten us even worst, but our kids just did an outstanding job," the Tiger mentor said. "It went down to the final relay and we lost it by six seconds."

Belleville started strong as Vicchy chose Scott Stone, Pike Walker, Ken Ferrier and Dean Ackron for the opening event, the 200-yard medley relay. The Tigers responded with the winning time of 1:49.2.

Jeff Liedel, a double winner for the Tigers, then churned a 1:58.7 in the 200-yard freestyle and later stroked a winning 4:15.0 in the 400-yard freestyle.

Channel 56's color cameras, for the fifth consecutive week, will highlight the "High School Basketball Game of the Week." The favored game this week, February 2nd at 10 p.m. will be Berkley vs. Seaholm at Seaholm.

The following Friday, February 16th Channel 56 will feature Romulus vs. River Rouge at River Rouge.

Barry DeChant, Michigan Bell Telephone Company employee, will continue to bring the play-by-play.

Jack Horwitz, an insurance

Channel 56 Director of Production, Jack Costello, said the game presentation has involved a lot of hard work from Channel 56 TV personnel.

"Channel 56 and basketball fans can credit Vernors, Incorporated for making the games possible with an underwriting grant," Costello said.

As a bonus service to Channel 56 viewers the Consolation Game and the Detroit Championship Title Game will be shown on Channel 56, respectively, on Saturday, February 24th.

Both games will be played at Cobo Hall. Channel 56 will begin taping at 9:00 a.m. and the games will be shown from 3:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

Tomorrow's forecast
from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until shortly after midday strange, unexpected situations exist so it is necessary to be wary of changes and follow through formally on what you have already started. However, p.m. is excellent for social and general prosperity and for doing things differently from in the past. Be active.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Act circumspectly so you do not spoil your good reputation. Then do whatever will improve the goodwill of public and bigwigs. Handle credit matters satisfactorily. Those civic duties are a cinch now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Morning is best for putting new ideas in operation, then get information you need from right sources. Later you can do work required of you by others. Take it easy in p.m.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Morning excellent for duties, then get into civic matters with a flair. Morning hunches are not good, however, though later they are accurate. Mate is grumpy early, but toward evening manner sweetens.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Study early how to improve certain relationships you are not sure of. Evening is the best time to get wheels rolling. Don't try to settle that outside matter just yet. Sleep on it.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Impress bigwigs with your fine ability in a.m., but be modest about it; then cheer up co-workers. Labor at a measured pace and safeguard your health. Being overly deliberate is just as bad, though. Relax in p.m.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you finish your work early, you can enjoy recreations later with congenials. Evening is best time to talk over problems with mate. Keep your temper controlled.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Morning is best time to repair or embellish dwelling for more comfort, beauty, value. Then you can invite friends to visit in p.m. Show you have good taste and good sense. Do not neglect important correspondence.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Much care in motion is vital today especially in the morning, then you can handle business matters wisely and well. Do not criticize others. Relegate the romantic to p.m. Then use finesse.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Finances seem depressing in a.m., but by diligent thinking and acting, all works out just fine before evening. Listen to advice which a clever business expert gives you early. Follow to the best of your ability.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you think others are not treating you right, study your appearance and improve it, and watch the good results. Do some entertaining that will bring goodwill. Show others you do like them, are willing to do favors.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you make the changes necessary, you can reorganize your future so all moves more efficiently and successfully. That secret anxiety can be gotten rid of quickly. Take it easy in p.m.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Plan to see good friends for whom you have had little time of late and good things can come of this. You want to dash off on a tangent early, but control this errant impulse and then the rest of the day and evening are fine.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those steady but slow plodders early in life, who will learn lessons thoroughly, however, so that when mature can be most successful because of the combination of charm and sureness. Bigwigs and the general public are easily impressed by your youngster. Business is the forte here, whether man or woman, and the education should be slanted along such lines. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

The out-county Neighborhood Youth Corps project of the Wayne County Intermediate School District is providing 2,500 youths with beneficial work experience in 18 local school districts, a current review of the program disclosed.

Frank Davis, director, has a staff of 28 locally employed members with secondary students in the following districts:

Cherry Hill, Ecorse, Garden City, Hamtramck, Highland Park, Inkster, Lincoln Park, Livonia, Plymouth, River Rouge, Romulus, Southgate, Taylor, Van Buren-Sumpter, Wayne-Westland, Westwood, Woodhaven and Wyandotte.

The NYC is a meaningful work-training program in which financially disadvantaged high school youths are employed part-time, enabling them to supplement their families' income.

The training experience received provides high school youth with the opportunity to acquire acceptable work habits and job attitudes and to understand the employer-employee relationship. "When you put a kid to work, something begins to happen. His whole attitude changes," explains Davis.

During the 1972 school year, Davis reported that 2,500 youth were employed in approximately 420 work sites in 18 local school districts of Wayne County, earning $1,477,000.

In the three-year period (1969-72) the Neighborhood Youth Corps has given part-time employment to 4,280 students who earned $2,103,416.

Romulus students work with pre-school kids

Mrs. Ethel Lovette, instructor for the Child Development classes at Romulus High School, teaches junior and senior high boys and girls who are interested in preparing themselves for parenthood and careers to work in day care centers, Head Start, and similar programs.

Since there are no pre-school age children in the high

The students were employed in township, city, county, state, federal and private non-profit agencies, in addition to working in public schools and churches.

The work sites included Head Start centers, armed forces recruiting stations, city libraries, public and non-profit hospitals, senior citizen housing, city, county and state law enforcement agencies. "An integral part of the enrollee's participation is personal and career counseling," Davis said. "Enrollees are exposed to outside speakers and also make visitations to places of employment in their communities," he added.

Davis pointed out that an increase in the project funding level over the 1971-72 school year afforded an opportunity for six school districts (Cherry Hill, Garden City, Lincoln Park, Livonia, Plymouth and Wayne-Westland) to join in the countywide 1972-73 school year project.

Students participating in the Head Start Center for eight weeks, one day per week, were Michael Bradley, Theresa Brown, Jim Cottonham, Lynette Lewis, Margaret Haynes, and Jennifer MaWhorter.

The students met with Mrs. Burton for a briefing session, orientation and observation of the program with staff, before working with the children.

According to the instructors, the activities of the total program include the daily planning with the staff and preparing the materials to be used for the day. By the time the children arrived, all were on deck to help the children ease into the program for the day.

Each day begins with a work-play activity period with the children going to the activities of their choice: blocks, paint, finger paint, dramatic play, table work with crayons, scissors, and paste.

The rooms are arranged in islands of interest with teachers, para-professionals, volunteer mothers and students from Romulus High School present to guide and instruct individual and small clusters of children in a variety of activities. All outdoor activity throbs with social interaction, including laughs, yells, cries and whines.

After these activities, preparation for lunch begins. This involves putting away equipment and materials, removal of wraps, washing hands, and relaxing with a story, conversation, poetry, or music before the meal. A relaxed, happy atmosphere is important to successful mealtime.

The teachers, volunteer mothers, and students sit at the tables with the children, eating the same food at the same time in a natural, relaxed way. This provides a good learning and emotional environment at the meal for development of good manners and eating habits.

After a short story, or browsing through books, listening to records, or playing with unstructured materials, the students prepare to leave the Head Start Center for home. A para-professional accompanies the children by bus to their homes.

After the departure of the children, the staff has the opportunity to evaluate the day's program. Time also is spent in making home calls.

2 students get U-M degrees

Two Romulus residents were among 118 seniors to receive degrees in winter commencement exercises from the University of Michigan - Dearborn.

Lawrence K. Reid, 5810 Metro, and Robert F. Buszka, 6780 Merriman, both received bachelor's degrees in business administration.

WHEREAS: The Honorable Robert E. Fitzpatrick, Chairman of the Board of Wayne County Commissioners in his State of the County Address referenced a dedication to pursue a program designed to effectively deal with the dilemma of the aged and the young, and

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus recognizes this dilemma as one of increasing prevalence and urgency, and WHEREAS: Wayne County Commission, Richard E. Manning has proposed to the Commission the establishment of the Wayne County Conservation Corps (WCCC) under the direction of its Department of Public Works with the following goals.

1. To establish a program to clean and rehabilitate the Rouge River and its tributaries in Wayne County.
2. To recruit Senior Citizens as planners, directors and supervisors of a comprehensive program using all possible skills available.

3. To recruit young people between 16 and 23 years of age in a program limiting their involvement to not more than two years in a combined work and training program, covering such diverse areas as office work, drafting, field engineering, time-keeping, laboring, machine operation, forestry work, carpentry, brick masonry, electricians, bridge building mechanics and related work skills that might be learned in this kind of effort.

4. To obtain technical assistance from Wayne State, University of Detroit, Michigan State, University of Michigan and Community College sources in planning a training series to be conducted by and under the direction of senior citizens with and for student-employees.

5. To plan and execute a program of continuing maintenance including not only flood plain improvement, soil erosion programs, clean water programs, but also the ultimate construction of access sites, wild life refuges, canoe access sites, rest areas and game areas.

6. To establish a pay program which would encourage young people to enter the program and reasonably compensate senior citizens for their participation.

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus is of the opinion that implementation of this program would have significant impact and contribute immensely to the aged and youth of Wayne County

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the City of Romulus does herewith register its support for the proposal of Commissioner Manning for the formation of WCCC.

RESOLUTION NO. 73-169

WHEREAS: The U.S. Chamber of Commerce has inspired a concerted attack against assistance to strikers and their families who are otherwise eligible for welfare because of need, and

WHEREAS: The Chamber of Commerce has gone to Congress, to the Courts, to the media and even to academia in its single-minded attempt to deny relief to needy strikers and their families, and

WHEREAS: The Social and Rehabilitation Service of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) did on January 3, 1973 place in the Federal Register two alternative regulations for public comment:

Alternative A - would deny assistance to families of strikers simply because they are strikers.

Alternative B - would recognize need as the sole criterion. WHEREAS: The City of Romulus, as is the UAW, opposed to Alternative A as discriminatory and unacceptable in a just society, but,

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus as does the UAW, support Alternative B in that:

1) Need should be the basic determinant of eligibility for welfare

2) Discrimination against strikers and their families who are in need would put the government on the side of the employer in union disputes

3) Since workers through their income taxes help defray cost of welfare programs, they should receive identical rights as does all other citizens with respect to applications for welfare assistance when they are in need.

4) Recent legislative history has amply demonstrated that the Congress does not desire to ally government and employer in labor disputes by denying eligibility to strikers. On the contrary, Congress has refused to deny welfare to strikers.

5) Meager welfare payments far below regular wages provide no incentive to strikers to prolong strikes for unreasonable periods of time.

6) The Supreme Court has, in two recent decisions, ruled against States which deny welfare on considerations other than need.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the City of Romulus does herewith register its support for Alternative B as the only humane and/or practical method of treating needy and eligible persons.

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED: That the City of Romulus hereby implores the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services of HEW to take any and all steps necessary to effectuate the enactment of Alternative B, and copies of this Resolution be sent to John D. Twinn, Administrator, Social and Rehabilitation Service Department of Health, Education and Welfare and Harry Koss, Chairman, 15th Congressional District UAW-CAP.

Roll call vote showing. Ayes - Edwards, Pennington, Bizek, Block, Stewart, Oakley, Raspberry. Nays - none. Motion carried unanimously.

11. Motion by Stewart, supported by Bizek, to accept the Mayors Report as presented by Hyle J. Carmichael. Roll call vote showing. Ayes - Stewart, Bizek, Block, Oakley, Edwards, Pennington, Raspberry. Nays - none. Motion carried unanimously.

12. Motion by Bizek, supported by Block, to approve the Chairmans Report as presented by Jimmie C. Raspberry. Roll call vote showing. Ayes - Bizek, Block, Stewart, Oakley, Edwards, Pennington. Nays - none. Abstain - Raspberry. Motion carried.

73-170

13. Motion by Bizek, supported by Stewart, that Warrant No. 97 (Vouchers No. 2703 through No. 2899 both inclusive) be approved with the deletion of the following:

Voucher No.	Payee	Amount

Adjusting Grand Total from $148,688.62 to $145,922.12. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Bizek, Stewart, Block, Oakley, Edwards, Pennington, Raspberry. Nays - none. Motion carried unanimously.

73-171

Motion by Block, supported by Oakley, to approve Urban Renewal Warrant No. 88 (Vouchers 1429 through 1446 vote inclusive) for payment. Grand Total of $72,321.34. Roll call vote showing. Ayes - Block, Oakley, Bizek, Stewart, Edwards, Pennington, Raspberry. Nays - none. Motion carried unanimously.

Van Buren may participate in Romulus auction

Van Buren Township officials have been asked by the City of Romulus to participate in a public auction to be held in Romulus in April.

The request received by the Van Buren Township Board was submitted by Romulus

City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar who stated:

"It is our intent to dispose of various sundry items we have on hand which have become obsolete for our purpose, or are not in service.

"Recognizing that other communities may have the same problem, it was our thought that you may wish to participate with the City of Romulus; should this be a joint venture, the overhead would be considerable less to each, as it could be shared, resulting in greater return for those items so disposed."

The board also approved a request made by the American Cancer Society for permission to conduct the society's annual crusade against cancer in the township.

The date of the crusade will be April 5 to 19 and will conclude with a Tag Day the last of the month.

VAN BUREN PUBLIC SCHOOLS Minutes of the Board of Education

REGULAR MEETING
December 11, 1972

The Regular Meeting of the Van Buren Board of Education was held in the Board Room of the Administration Building on Monday, December 11, 1972 at 8:00 p.m.

Members present: Mr. Charles Bole, Mrs. Doris Roe, Dr. Richard Muse, Mr. Elwood Bos, Mr. Lynne Hamilton, and Mr. Robert Archer. Members absent: Mr. James Sayre, Superintendent Kaulitz, Business Manager Von Destinon, Curriculum Director Kohr, and Elementary Supervisor Gray were also present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved and ordered filed.

Motion by Hamilton, supported by Roe, to approve all bills as submitted for payment.

Mr. Landy Box, 47434 North Shore Drive, Belleville, was present and presented a request for a storm drain along the east lot line of South Junior High School property. After a thorough discussion and presentation, President Bole referred the matter to the Business Manager for study and report.

Vice-President Doris Roe presented the Maintenance-Custodial Agreement. After discussion, motion by Muse, supported by Bos, and unanimously passed, to adopt said agreement as presented.

Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds Ed Peck reported to the Board on the need for an alarm system at North Junior High School. The report included bids and specifications. Motion by Archer, supported by Bos, and unanimously passed, to accept the bid from Sentry Security Systems, Inc. for the installation of a security alarm system at North Junior High for the complete purchase price, including installation, of $1,694.00.

Mr. Robert W. Harrison, President of the Elwell P.T.O., was present and introduced a request from the Elwell P.T.O. for installation of air exhausters in the multipurpose room at Elwell School. Mr. Ed Peck presented to the Board various proposals and suggestions for alleviation of the problem including approximate costs thereof. President Bole referred the matter to Mr. Peck for study by his department and report.

Mr. Ed Peck presented a report regarding the need for a new maintenance delivery van. The Board discussed same, but no action was taken. Superintendent Kaulitz presented a communication from the Wayne County Association of School Boards relative to the 1971-72 State Aid Contingency Funds. After discussion, the following resolution was moved by Archer, supported by Bos, and unanimously passed:

"WHEREAS, state aid funds are urgently needed by local school districts for the continued improvement of education; and

WHEREAS, any cut impairs the needed operation of educational programs; and

WHEREAS, in the 1971-72 State Aid Act contingency funds were withheld, thus denying school districts anticipated state aid monies; and

WHEREAS, the State of Michigan year-end fiscal position was one of surplus rather than deficit;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that Van Buren Public Schools urge the Legislature to reinstate funds to the Local school districts lost from the contingency provision of the State Aid Act."

Mr. Elwood Bos, member of the Policy Committee, reported on tentative policy procedures and presented to each board member a policy manual. No action was taken at this time but the Board is to study the proposals for future modifications and ultimate adoption.

Mr. Lynne Hamilton noted the gift of a 1971 Vega from General Motors Corporation to the Van Buren Public Schools Vocational Center and suggested that the Board send a letter of appreciation for same. President Bole directed the secretary to forward the appropriate letter.

Questions and comments were received from visitors.

On motion duly made, seconded, and unanimously passed, the meeting was adjourned.

Robert K. Archer
Secretary
